

YACHT OWNER'S INTERVIEW

Owning A Luxury Yacht, An Exhilarating Experience!

She is one of the largest Luxury Motor Yachts in the Mumbai Harbour. Custom built in India, she is designed under the connoisseurial eye of her owner, Indian industrialist Gautam Singhania! Ashena, with her unique Burma teak hull is a far cry from the usual yachts. The ultimate in aquatic sophistication and India's first and only indigenous yacht, Ashena is one of the few yachts in the world constructed entirely of wood and probably the only one with an all-wood superstructure! Mr. Singhania says, "If you can afford it, there is no experience like having your own yacht," and ...

Pre-Checks For A Pre-Owned Boat

Second hand boats are confirming their demand in the market as buyers find them economical, and, at the same time give the satisfaction of owning a yacht and fulfilling their boating dreams. Buying a used boat can be an interesting alternative if you have financial constraints or are discouraged by the inadequate infrastructure. Pre-owned boats are relatively cheaper than the new boats. Buying such boats not only proves to be economical for the buyer but also beneficial for the seller as he is able to invest the money earned in a much bigger and better boat...

YACHT MAINTENANCE

Dos & Don'ts Of Docking During The Monsoons

Your boat is priceless and you need to take all measures to safeguard it during all seasons. Taking care of your boat during the rains is not a tough task as one would assume. Docking during monsoons is a very important aspect of owning and managing boats. In India the monsoons arrive during the first week of June. The boat owners start listing their boats from the second week of May. Once the boats are listed they are lifted and are taken to the yards for dry berthing. The process of lifting involves the usage of cranes, lifting gear, experienced supervision, manpower and...

SAILING IN MUMBAI

Monsoon Clinics - Sailing In The Rains In Mumbai

The monsoon quarter in India almost shuts all doors for sailing as the boats are docked safely for the seas get rough and unsafe for sailing. During these months the sailors seek other opportunities to keep in touch with the sport. Thus, Monsoon Clinics are held. Monsoon Clinics are opportunities for sailors to carry on sailing while all other avenues to sail are closed down during the rains. Various drills, races and sailing activities take place and the main aim for conducting monsoon clinics is to keep the sailors occupied during the off-season as well...
