A New & Separate Regulations Chapter For Boating In India

In our efforts to grow Boating in India, we at India Yacht Page invite your advice on regulations for Boating. In our season opening e-news in September, we wish to kick start the much needed process of creating new laws governing boating, that which are separate from the shipping industry. The areas of attention are: classification of boats for registration, crew requirements, land laws to enable marina development and invite foreign boat yards to set up shop, port regulations & coastal guidelines to enable freedom of movement and yacht-friendly legislation to name a few! Feel free to add to the list. Do write in at zinia@indiayachtpage.com with your questions & suggestions.

Choose The Right Boat Cover To Protect Your Boat

A good boat cover protects your boat by reducing moisture or sun damage coming in from the environment. The number one enemy of the interior of boats in the off season is moisture, second only to damage from sunlight. Boat covers with ultra violet coating can prevent the harsh rays of the sun from causing damage to your boat. If your boat is stored in a moist environment you will want to choose a fabric that is breathable like a solution dyed polyester or acrylic. They are not coated but they have treatments applied to the thread itself. A cotton fabric is the most breathable yet the least...

BOAT MAINTENANCE

Monsoon Storage & Maintenance For Boats In India

Each year the fair season for boating begins around the first week of October and lasts till the end of May due to withdrawal of the south-west monsoons in October and the arrival of the south-west monsoon in early June. The boats during fair weather season (Oct. to May) are moored in the Mumbai Harbor and used by owners as per their needs. Monsoons bring in heavy wind and rough waters. Hence keeping the boat at the mooring area off Gateway of India during monsoons is prohibited as per port policy. Boats being an expensive asset, owners must strive to store the boat at a sheltered...

Jet Kayaks Get You Out There And Back

So you love kayaking and it makes for the perfect fitness regime. But what if your kayak was also powered by a jet motor to propel you through the water while you went exploring, fishing or checking out the wildlife along the coast? These Kayaks can go as fast (up to 40km) or as slow as you like. Jet kayaks are ideal for exploring in the wild untamed west coast, or for fishing in the beautiful inlets or going up one of the many exciting rivers or tributaries. You can look at the native fauna and flora, or see some amazing birds. They have a range of 100km on one tank of fuel so are extremely...
