Boat Storage Facilities Go Vertical With Latest Technology!

A marina often suffices and offers safe berthing of boats but many times indoor rack storage is desired by boat owners and marinas to protect vessels from extreme weather conditions. A machine launches boats which are stored in a dry-stack storage facility using forklifts, or boats which are towed on a trailer boat to the launching site. Boats up to 50 feet can be stored depending on the storage shed/building facility and the technology it comes equipped with. Today's most effective dry storage marina technology is the patented Vertical Yacht Storage System (VYSS). Unlike traditional forklift based operations, VYSS technology allows Marina owners to store any boat...

MONSOON SPECIAL

River Kayaking – The Ultimate Water Sport Of The Monsoons!

Many people put off kayaking during the monsoon because the waters are too high, and yes they are, but with a country with over 6,000 rivers – there is always somewhere to paddle. For those who want to experience big volume rivers and have the experience, we think that monsoon is one of the best times to visit Nepal for kayaking! River System of Nepal: The antecedent system of river drainage partly explains why the rivers of Nepal are so good for rafting and kayaking – they don't just rush straight down to the plain, but follow convoluted courses traversing the Midland valleys of Nepal and then...

BOAT MAINTENANCE

Tips For Boaters – How To Use Your Boat More Efficiently

We know that even the most seasoned boater has things to learn, so we put some interesting facts together to help boost your boating knowledge. We would love to have input from you also, so please feel free to add anything you have learned over the years in the comments below! A few first pointers would be clever weight distribution; try to keep the bow of the boat light. Store anchors, tools and spare props towards the rear of the boat, life jackets, towels and dock ropes towards the front. A bow heavy boat will push more water, causing excessive fuel usage. Loading like this will keep your bow...
