MIBS 2012: Review By IndiaYachtPage.com

The Mumbai International Boat Show (MIBS) ended on a high note this year. MIBS offers a unique opportunity to participate in a well-established and trusted platform and caters to arguably the last large untapped leisure boating market in the world! This year; MIBS was a well-attended yachting event with a rise in both exhibitors & visitors from all parts of the globe when it was held between 23rd to 26th February. MIBS, now in its sixth edition; reinforced its top position in India's Boating Industry as India's largest boat show with an increase in the number of old companies coming back...

BOATING CONFERENCE

Will Boating Throw Its Anchor in Gujarat?

The Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) held a Boating Conference titled 'Navigating Forward,' on 24th February concurrent with the Mumbai International Boat show 2012. Both meaningful and enlightening, this year's conference brought to fore many unanswered questions related to inconsistent regulations at ports; inadequate licensing, inspection and registration policies and unprofitable customs, excise, subsidies and tax breaks. All of these, combined with bureaucracy and deficient infrastructure have ensured that the industry is crippled and remains backward...

Hanse 325 : New Sailboat In The Mumbai Harbour

Sailing the Hanse 325 is a great stress buster! She is a 32 footer, perfectly sized if one wants to avoid the physical constraints of a big boat. Handling the Hanse is hassle free as it is ridiculously easy to sail and requires no crew. Take her out into the harbor, put her on autopilot and voila! One can sail into the sunset with family and friends while listening to music and enjoying some lip-smacking finger foods! She is small enough to easily sail and big enough to entertain. There's never been a better time to pick up a new boat and the Hanse 325 entry-level cruiser is perfect if you're new to yachting...

Maintenance + Storage Tips For Jet Skis & RIBs

Proper maintenance of marine water crafts can guarantee longer and efficient usage life. The process involves great care and a dedicated amount of time regularly. The following steps are essential to ensure proper functioning of the Jet Ski. Drain out excess water – Just after your ride, the first thing you should do is remove all the excess water from the engine. The best place to do this is right at the loading dock. Turn the handle back and forth to drain out the excess water while the engine is running. Also start the engine but don't let it run for more than 30 seconds to prevent overheating.
